Transportation Guide

- The cancer policy states we will pay Transportation Benefits if you: travel on your doctor's advice to another city for diagnosis or treatment of cancer: the destination is more than 50 miles one way from the city where you live; and you are receiving treatment for internal (not skin) cancer. (Please refer to your specific policy as there are several distinct mileage variations).
- This benefit is payable when charges are incurred for travel to and from your destination for either: commercial travel (plane, train or bus); or non-commercial travel (use of personal car).
- Mileage is measured for the most direct route from your address to the address where you receive treatment.

There is no limit to the number of times the transportation benefit can be received.

When filing for transportation, please note the following details must be received in order to complete our review for benefits:

- Please provide us with the exact dates of travel you are claiming. We cannot assume travel dates based on treatment or lodging dates.
- Starting location (physical home address in most cases) and address of the facility where treatment was received.
If you are claiming Lodging Benefits, please provide the bills (not reservation document) that shows the dates of check in and check out.
- Please provide us with treatment documentation (itemized bills or medical notes) for the dates corresponding to the travel you are claiming.
- We do not need gas receipts, car rental charges, parking charges, or charges for meals incurred while traveling as these charges are not covered under the cancer policy.
